

In the Name of Supreme God

Thanks to the grace of God that an opportunity was found to bring together a group of medical educators as ancients say: "those who were harvesting the blooms of medicine and mixed them with knowledge experience and practice, those who used their efforts and determination in order to enrich their savings with Iranian genuine to solve difficult problems such as infertility treatment, high risk pregnancies, prenatal diagnosis, recurrent abortions, and Genetic disorders review. Thanks to God noteworthy steps has been taken in the past two decades in our country.

Once again, we decided to promote the production of knowledge on the origin of this branch of science by compiling, collecting, and investigating outstanding articles. In this way we could present a drop of our scientific-research results of achievements to scholars. In addition, by calling papers from our colleagues, experts and scholars in academic centers we could play a role in developing education and health services followed by scientific progress.

Now that the first issue of "SaremEncyclopedia" would be under print, certainty and despite our efforts, will not be free of defects and shortcomings. We hope researchers, professors and students assist us with their constructive comments in order to enhance our journal both in terms of content and form.
